Problem - Confusion with event planning and task handling.

- Unorganized/ unclear assignment of responsibility across members of the team

- Missing requirements caused by forgetfulness

- Dwindling determination from the lack of concrete due dates
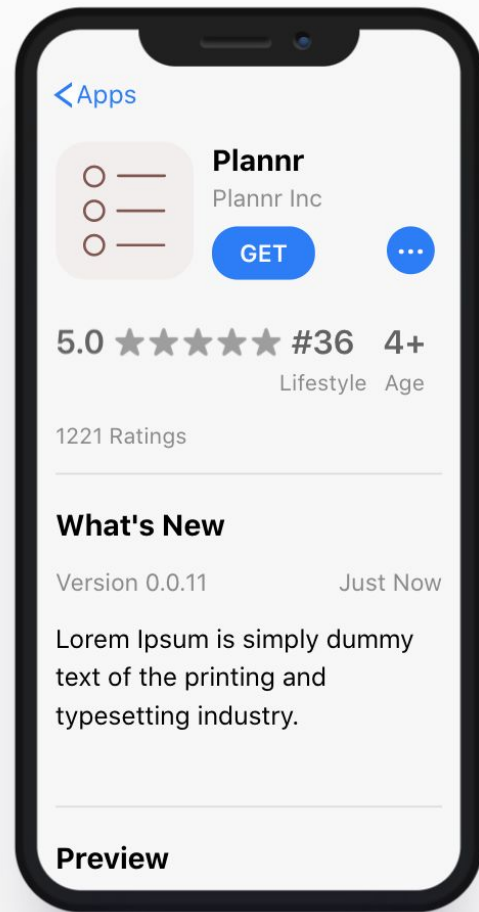

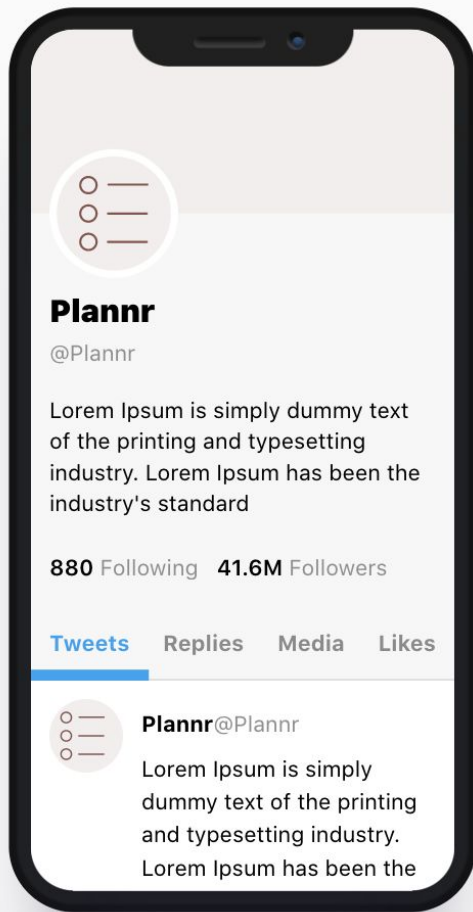

Solution - Making a site that:

- Allows you to create events

- Assign specific tasks to be handled by certain individuals

- Split cost of event among your group

Introducing Plannr

- Plannr is a site that lets you easily plan and distribute tasks of the event to people that are willing to help.

- It also helps give deadlines for tasks before the event takes place since some tasks might require more time than others.

- Give people a strict cost and/or instructions regarding what needs to be done for the task at hand.
